

CALATHEA

Calatheas come from within the deep rainforests of the Amazon region in South America. These plants have retained their natural jungle rhythm, so even at your home or office, the leaves will open due to the effect of light.

That's why the Calathea is known as 'THE LIVING PLANT'.

www.calathea.nl

leaves open
in daylight

leaves close
at night

O₂

air cleaning

do not eat

easy care

no full sunlight

2 x a week

23 °C
15 °C

Plant Passport

A Calathea C
B NL 783630220 D NL

18110704.5

Where I come from

Nowadays most Dracaenas come from Costa Rica. The cutted stems are harvested from fields in open air. In the Netherlands the Dracaenas are cultivated to become high quality houseplants. Dracaenas are easy to care for.

www.reijm-nieuwerkerk.nl

1x /WK

